

SEA the Possibilities for a Day of DOING JOURNALISM.

WHAT IS THE DAY OF DOING?

The DAY OF DOING provides an opportunity for advisers to practice what they teach and to rediscover their love for journalism while working with advisers from across the country.

HOW IT WORKS

- 1 Sign up to participate at <https://goo.gl/forms/97eAnfuYmpbmCQrc2> by April 1. A link is available at wjea.org
- 2 Pick a day during the WJEA convention in Seattle to DO JOURNALISM. We will meet at the start of each day to introduce you to other participants and provide coverage options.
- 3 Watch your email inbox as we get closer to convention for more information regarding daily events and publication.
- 4 Can't make it to convention? Sign up and DO JOURNALISM from home that weekend!

HOW YOU CAN DO JOURNALISM

- Write a story--news, feature, sports, opinion, whatever
- Create a broadcast journalism piece
- Create a photo gallery
- Design an infographic
- Work with colleagues from around the country to do a larger project
- Or . . . come up with something else. Consider something you would assign to students and do it yourself!

WHERE WILL MY WORK BE PUBLISHED?

We will publish to the Washington Journalism Education Association webpage. You may access it from home to show your students your work.

HAVE QUESTIONS? WANT MORE INFO?

Anne Hayman, MJE
ahayman@asd.wednet.edu

